PREFACE

This module is purposely developed for you. Teachers of Music, Arts, Physical Education and Health subjects can utilize the activities and rubric for related lessons. This will help you lessen your time in preparing and formulating new activities that are suited to the same lessons.

This will also aid you to encourage your students to be more participative during your classroom instructions. As students become familiar with some strategies, they can assist you in helping students especially those who are in need of your attention. This involvement allows your students to be empowered and their learning becomes more focused; and independent learners as a result.

This module is divided into components per quarter, namely; Music, Arts, Physical Education and Health. The module ensures you the compliance of the competencies and standards set by the Department of Education as you go along the activities.

As a result, students will also achieve all the necessary competencies set by the curriculum as embedded in every activity.
